Prints & fotoflots

Mpix is a high-end photofinishing lab delivering professional quality prints using only the best materials and packaging. Mpix is a division of Miller's Professional Imaging, and is the top choice for professional work. This lab ships to the USA and Canada, and offers three distinct types of photographic papers to choose from: Kodak E-surface Color paper, Kodak Professional Metallic paper, and Ilford True Digital B&W paper. The Mpix lab offers print quality guarantee as well as protection against orders arriving damaged or incomplete.

Photobox is the leading online printing and publishing service for digital photos in the UK. Photobox offers print quality guarantee as well as protection against orders arriving damaged or incomplete. Delivery is available anywhere in the world excluding US and Canada.

fotoflōt products are a new way to display your photos elegantly and without frames. Innovative magnetic mounting system allows you to avoid glare, glass, and frames; and allows you to swap photos in seconds. Images literally float off the wall or desk.

Photos are printed on true photographic paper and mounted on a 1/8" acrylic base. Both are laser-trimmed to the size you choose and arrive ready to mount. Hardware and instructions are included.

Royalty-free for personal or non-profit use

Frank Baensch, the owner ("Owner") of the copyrighted photograph being purchased (the "Work"), hereby grants you the non-exclusive, non-assignable, non-sublicensable, and perpetual right to use, reproduce and distribute the copyrighted Work for personal or non-profit purposes, and to incorporate the copyrighted Work, in whole or in part, into derivative works for non-profit distribution.

You are prohibited from using the Work for any other purpose, including: using, reproducing or distributing the Work and/or materials incorporating all or any part of the Work for profit; selling or distributing electronic copies of the Work as standalone files or as part of a product from which a person is able to extract the Work as a standalone file; distributing the Work in or as part of an electronic template (e.g., as an image available in a word processing or web page creation application) intended to be reproduced by third parties on electronic or printed products; or using the Work as part of a trademark, service mark or logo.

Owner retains all other rights in the Work and any derivative work, including without limitation, the right to use, copy, sell, license, and distribute copies of the Work in all markets and territories.

In consideration for the grant of this non-exclusive license, you agree to pay Owner the amount specified, due and payable immediately prior to your downloading a digital copy of the Work.

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws designated by Owner, now or in the future. Back...

One-time Printed use (no online publishing)

Frank Baensch, the owner ("Owner") of the copyrighted photograph being purchased (the "Work") hereby grants you the non-exclusive, non-assignable, and non-sublicensable right to incorporate the Work in up to one hundred thousand (100,000) copies of a single printed article.

You are prohibited from using the Work for any other purpose other than creating printed copies, including: using the Work online; creating electronic copies of the Work; or using the Work as part of a trademark, service mark, or logo.

Owner retains all other rights in the Work and any derivative work, including without limitation, the right to use, copy, sell, license, and distribute the Work in all markets and territories.

In consideration for the grant of this non-exclusive license, you agree to pay Owner the amount specified, due and payable immediately prior to your downloading a digital copy of the Work.

This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws designated by Owner, now or in the future. Back...
